NOTES Story creation in progress The Engineer class will have a new skill in the game: the unique power called the EcoPulse. The main goal of the new skill is not to affect vegetation, as the other skills are, but to mitigate environmental damage. Using EcoPulses is the best way to balance this new skill: the Engineer won't be able to control vegetation growth, but they can use this new skill to reduce the damages caused to the environment by human settlements and cities. With a Engineer you can reduce the pollution, habitat destruction
