Exmiles Race Central is a racing simulator where the players can use the virtual driving wheel to control their own virtual cars or trucks indicators There are several indicators available for several analysis activities. For example, there are indicators for the market, energy and indicators for the pool. The number of indicators available depends on the activity. When you save your work you can save the current set of indicators. You can also save the parameters of an indicator for later use. The easiest way to change a parameter in a previous saved indicator setup is to edit the property of the indicator. When you open an indicator again the parameter you saved is still in use. For example, if you save the indicators for the pool and for the market at the same time and you want to see the market for a selected time interval you can choose to open the market indicator or the pool indicator for the specified time interval. If you are in the pool map and want to see the price of the market you can open the pool indicator. Usage The usage of the indicators is free and your account can be used for all the available indicators in the pool. The indicators are divided into two groups: managed and unmanaged. Managed indicators are available at all levels and are therefore useful for all simulations. The unmanaged indicators are only available in the pool map and are therefore only useful in this activity. For the pool, the indicators are divided into different types: supply, demand, price and liquidity. The number of indicators in the pool map depends on the activity you choose in the pool map. At the pool level the indicators can be seen in the list view. Follow us About us We welcome you in our world! Alturf presents free software applications for Internet entrepreneurs.
